

EXECUTIVE TRAINING FOR MAJOR PROJECTS STRATEGIES FOR SUCCESS

It is crucial that managers and key decision makers fully appreciate the financial parameters and evaluation basis of major projects. The ultimate success of a major project is measured by financial outcomes and the overall value that it creates.

To support our clients in optimising the financial outcomes of major projects, TMP Consulting has developed a unique training package that will help to educate and empower your staff to make sound major project decisions by improving and complementing their financial skills.

The training is designed to raise the financial awareness, knowledge and skills of key staff, particularly non-financial managers and executives, involved in the development of major capital projects.

This program will particularly benefit the managers and executives who review, evaluate, design, develop or approve capital projects. It is ideal for organisations with significant capital expenditure programs or are involved in developing major projects.

Why invest in our training?

A sound understanding of the key project financial drivers will encourage your team to make value-based decisions that will bring considerable tangible benefits and long-term savings. Drawing on our extensive real life experience, TMP Consulting will show you how to:

- ensure your team adopts consistent project goals
- reduce potential conflicts between team members
- improve your ability to identify and manage risks
- achieve the most efficient use of your resources
- set realistic project assumptions and targets
- understand proven strategies for successfully developing major projects
- ensure long term financial sustainability

*"My staff found your training extremely useful
It's always valuable to have fundamental financial concepts reinforced with practical case studies.
Two days well spent – a broad subject well presented and covered concisely."*

*Mike Walsh
Managing Director, Thames Water Projects (Australia) Pty Ltd*
